

Something Exciting has Happened to ODDLabel.com

ifc is excited about the release of the .NET ODD.com website which makes producing labels easier than ever!

Here is the list of our new features:

The screenshot shows the ODDLabel.com website interface. At the top left is the logo for 'ifc international filing company' and 'ON DEMAND DIGITAL LABEL SYSTEM'. On the top right, there is a 'Registered Users' section with fields for 'login:' and 'password:', and links for 'sign me in automatically' and 'forgot password?'. Below the logo is a navigation bar with links for 'HOME', 'PRINT LABELS', 'CONTACT US', and 'CORP'. The main content area features a large circular callout bubble on the left that says 'Check out our new look! Sign on for more information.' To the right of the bubble is a form titled 'Update your user credentials'. The form includes a message: 'With the site upgrade we are now requiring passwords to be 7 characters minimum. We are also requiring you to set up a question and answer to be used for the retrieval of forgotten passwords.' Below this message, there is a 'Login:' field with the text 'scottlarson'. A note states 'Your password must be at least 7 characters'. There are two input fields for 'New Password' and 'Retype Password'. Below these are fields for 'Question' and 'Answer', with a 'Submit' button at the bottom. At the bottom of the screenshot, there are several small icons representing different file formats and services.

- ›Enhanced security includes longer password that is now case sensitive as with a new security question element
- ›Persisting data makes it very difficult for users to loose their data
- ›Highly improved data generation tools make it much easier to generate data and records with incrementing or constant data
- ›New reports for Account Users List and Inventory Transfer History
- ›Reformatted reports make drilling for data easier, plus now downloadable to Excel and/or PDF formats
- ›Enhanced Support Center – download instructional and marketing information
